5. 1973, October 25, letter, Dr. Stock to Dr. Lloyd J. Old re Essiac: no copy
'We can discuss how actively this should be pursued especially if we can't elicit definite information about it.'
6. 1973, October 25, Dr. Stock to Rene Caisse McGaughey: no copy
'Am returning the material you sent in confidence. I will maintain the confidence of your communication... Dr. Hartwell is right about FDA regulations... We would very much like to try your material in our experimental tumor system. I can assure you that if our trials give us encouragement, there should be no problem of a clinical trial. I believe that this is your best chance to have the effectiveness of your material demonstrated in a way that would be accepted.'
7. 1973, October, letter, Rene Caisse McGaughey to Dr. Stock: no copy
'In my time the herbs could be grown and gathered in the open but today with all the sprays etc they would have to be grown in safer places. I can supply you with a small amount of the ingredients and I have ampules (made twenty-five years ago) the same as those treated on mice in Boston.'
8. 1974, January handwritten letter, Rene Caisse McGaughey to Dr. Stock: COPY
